WHEREAS, September first to seventh annually is National Youth Week, a movement to encourage Youth, who now comprise approximately one-half of our population, to inspire and quide our people throughout the year in the true path for democracy and justice for all; and,

WHEREAS, there is no doubt that the wave of the future will be largely in the hands of and dominated by those persons now aged 25 and younger; and,

WHEREAS, thos persons 25 and younger have an enlightened and educated outlook for democracy's future;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANK L. FARRAR, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim September first to seventh as in this state, as it will be in this nation and throughout the world.

I ask that appropriate programs of observation and participation be engaged in not only by our youth but, even more participation be engaged in not only by our youth but, even more particularly, by the other half of our citizens, those over twenty-five years of age, whom we ask to give honor to our youthful and forward-looking persons, the majority of whom are deserving of honor and respect, and who are the future inheritors of our democracy and the world.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota this first day of August in the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Seventy.

Frank L. Farrar
